

Hopefully you will not change the media ownership rule. It would not be in the best interest of the public to have a single owner in control of information distributed to the public. The more diversified our sources of information the better for the public.